MANIFESTO

This is my home, this is my salvation, this is my sanctuary.
And there is no other quite like it.

This one's mine, but I will share. From here I can see the sky, ocean, history and humanity, I adore the Earth and respect her gifts,
but have made no compromises.

I am a new breed of urbanite who believes that luxe and eco can live harmoniously under one roof.

This is my home.

GREEN+VINE

EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE RESIDENCES AT W HOLLYWOOD

Produced and co-designed by Nicole Landers of econnect grp.

Co-designed by Kelly Van Patter of Van Patter Design

Branding and web design by Eric Stein of Witness

THE STORY

econnect grp. and Van Patter Design bring a new vision of eco-luxury living to the heart of Hollywood: GREEN+VINE, created exclusively for The Residences at W Hollywood. GREEN+VINE was born from the The Residences at W Hollywood's vaunted Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED®) certification, the largest to date in Southern California. Perched twelve floors high above the corner of Hollywood and Vine, the one bedroom residence enjoys inspired south facing views, making "green", breathless. This eco haven combines urban loft sensibilities with an environmental theme that primarily utilizes local (from within a 500-mile radius) eco-manufacturers and artisans – qualifications compliant for LEED® regional materials.

Topping the list of our eco-urban luxe collaboration is Cisco Home, an eco furniture designer; todosomething, artisans with a purpose; a new outdoor lifestyle line, HOM Escape in Style by Cisco Brothers; and LED HD flat screens from LG. To organize the space we incorporated The Container Store's sustainable selections, Royal-Pedic's organic mattress, and Union Eighteen's floor coverings made from recycled carpet remnants. Also featured in our urban sanctuary is Animavi's new concept in refined, urban lounging, as well as exterior foliage design by Inner Gardens. You'll find these and countless other uncommon offerings in this sanctuary amidst the clouds. Witness, our branding partner, developed the brand concept for this eco-luxe, urban home — GREEN+VINE.

A portion of the proceeds from the sale of this residential unit will be going to Global Green USA, a 501c3.

THE TEAM

econnect grp. econnect grp., based in Southern CA, was founded in 2008 by Nicole Landers and Kevin Krohner. We are sustainability professionals dedicated to providing public and private entities with successful strategies for lessening their carbon footprint. Utilizing the LEED® green building certification program as well as representing a variety of eco friendly products, we market solutions directly to both commercial & residential clients, showing how sustainability benefits their bottom line.

econnect grp. is devoted to aiding both businesses and individuals in becoming more environmentally conscious. By encouraging change as well as providing the means to make positive transformations, we have successfully guided our clients down the path to “going green” in every aspect of life and business. Clients include, PUNCHouse Project 234 Net Zero & LEED® for Homes Santa Monica Residence, NEXT Generation LEED® for Homes 1st Estate in Southern CA Malibu Residence, Discovery Network/Planet Green’s “Battle Ground Earth” television show co-starring Tommy Lee & Ludacris, WIRED Living Home Project Showcase Project for WIRED Magazine.

econnect's LEED® consultants are accredited, seasoned professionals and our company is a National Member of the USGBC (United States Green Business Council). econnectgrp.com is considered one of Los Angeles’ premier environmental specialists. Firmly committed to being part of the solution, she co-founded econnect to aid the environmental community in changing locally to affect globally by working with both commercial (schools, businesses, hospitality, retail, restaurants) & residential clients by utilizing the LEED® green building certification program.

Nicole has been dedicated to improving and preserving our planet as well as world health and wellness for years. Her beliefs led her to founding her own public relations firm, LANDERS PR, in 2002 and closed shop in 2008. LANDERS PR was focused on working with environmental and socially minded companies, business owners, and eco-events. Her work won her recognition in such media as ABC News, E!, Access Hollywood, E! Online, The Tyra Banks Show, Ellen, The Insider, US Weekly, ecorazzi.com, Organic Authority and Reuters, amongst many others outlets.

Past projects include being an eco advisor for Discovery Network/Planet Green’s “Battle Ground Earth” co-starring Tommy Lee & Ludacris, as well as consulting on the the WIRED Living Home Project for WIRED Magazine. Nicole’s past marketing expertise led her to work on two award winning environmental documentaries, “FUEL” which she aided to win Sundance Film Festival in 2008 & the Warner Bros/Tree Media Documentary, “The 11th Hour”, with their grassroots campaign and eco-premiere event.
